Pre-internship for Elementary Teachers

Handbook & Syllabus
A Guide for Teacher Candidates

The College of Education contributes to the theory and practice of the broad field of education and dedicates itself to understanding and respecting learners in diverse cultural contexts. We facilitate engaged learning and ethical leadership in schools and clinical settings. We seek collaboration with diverse constituencies, recognizing our local and global responsibilities to communities, environments, and future generations.

Prerequisite

For candidates who have completed TCH LRN 405 and Block II coursework.

Course Description

Field experience with classroom observation and teaching prior to student teaching. Weekly seminar included for weeks 6 - 16.

- Candidates establish classroom communities that support student learning and positive human relationships.
- Candidates design and execute a wide range of instructional plans and strategies that support student learning within and across the curriculum.
- Candidates design and implement a wide range of assessment strategies that support student learning within and across academic content areas.

The connections between the COE Conceptual Framework and TCH LRN 490 include an emphasis on understanding and respecting learners in the diverse cultural context of a clinical classroom placement.

Instructional Methods

This course relies heavily on interactive discussions and collaborative work. All seminar classes will meet in person.

Required Materials

TCH LRN 490 Handbook

University Syllabus

Students are responsible for reading and understanding all university-wide policies and resources pertaining to all courses (for instance: accommodations, care resources, policies on discrimination or harassment), which can be found in the University Syllabus.

Elementary Program Overview

Washington State University's elementary teacher preparation program is divided into four-semester blocks encompassing academic courses and field experiences. While most of the courses in the program are assigned to a particular block, several classes may be taken in conjunction with either Block I, Block II, or Block III. The block sequence is as follows:

Block I

Coursework: Provides students with a foundation for understanding and articulating issues related to instructional strategies, literacy, technology, and assessment and tools for teaching math in public schools.

Field Experience: 30+ hours in a K-8 classroom

Block II

Coursework: Builds on the fundamental principles of Block I and emphasizes effective strategies for teaching science, including integrating reading and literacy in this content area, and addressing special needs students.

Field Experience: 30+ hours in a K-8 classroom

Block III

Coursework: Ten weeks of coursework provides students with the tools for teaching social studies and contemporary issues in public schools.

Pre-internship Field Experience: 4 to 6-week field experience provides students with an intensive field experience in which they integrate educational theories with teaching in classroom contexts.

The pre-internship is particularly important as it comes immediately before your internship. This experience provides the following for teacher candidates:

- It allows teacher candidates to learn about and experience the culture of schools and the everyday life of classrooms, teachers, and children.
- It provides teacher candidates opportunities to practice their teaching and classroom management skills by teaching lessons and planning with mentor teachers.
- It offers teacher candidates the experiences that will enhance their potential for a successful and productive internship experience.

Block IV

Internship Field Experience: 16-week student teaching internship

Field Experience

School Assignment

The regional field coordinator will work with local school districts to place teacher candidates with cooperating mentor teachers. Teacher candidates are not placed in buildings where a relative is employed.

Required Hours

Teacher candidates completing the pre-internship are required to spend 125+ hours in their assigned classroom during the semester. This should be completed in the semester's first four to six weeks.

TCH LRN 490 Instructor

The instructor will be accessible by Zoom, email, and telephone to answer questions, hear concerns, and discuss the teacher candidate's performance. The instructor will collect and review the pre-internship assignments and the Pre-internship Professional Dispositions Evaluation for Field Experiences (PDEFE) form from the teacher candidate and record a final grade for the experience.

Mentor Teacher

Washington State University relies on the assistance and support of professionals in the field to ensure our teacher candidates are well-prepared for their future students. Participating mentor teachers will oversee the field experience and collaborate with WSU field supervisors to evaluate the field experience.

Mentor teachers are expected to:

- Complete the lesson plan observation forms and debrief with the teacher candidate.
- Collaboratively complete a Pre-internship PDEFE with evidence during the final visit with the university field supervisor.

University Field Supervisor

The university supervisor will visit the mentor teacher and teacher candidate at least twice. The purpose of the first visit is to meet with the teacher candidate and the mentor teacher to ensure the pre-internship is progressing smoothly. The purpose of the last visit is to conference with the teacher candidate and the mentor teacher while the mentor teacher and teacher candidate complete the Pre-internship PDEFE form and discuss any areas that need to be strengthened before returning to student teaching the following semester.

Termination of Field Experience

The College of Education reserves the right to refuse the placement of any student in a field experience or to terminate individual placement if there is a cause for concern about that individual's fitness to work with children in a classroom setting.

Attendance

Teacher candidates are expected to attend the pre-internship placement following teacher contract hours Monday through Friday. Teacher contract hours typically start 30 minutes before the first bell and 30 minutes after the last bell. Please use the mentor's schedule as a guide.

Absences

Teacher candidates are expected to be present in their assigned classrooms each week. In the case of an emergency, illness, or accident, teacher candidates are responsible for notifying their mentor teacher if they will be absent or late. Absences will be made up to the satisfaction of all involved.

Weather Conditions

The schools prefer that you be resourceful (rather than calling the schools directly) in acquiring information about school closures due to adverse weather conditions.

Transportation

Teacher candidates are responsible for transportation to and from the field experience site. Teacher candidates need to be accountable and on time. If participating in a ride share, please contact passengers and riders as early as possible when absent.

Sign-in

Teacher candidates must sign in as visitors to the school office each week when entering and leaving the building. The administration must be aware of who is in the building.

WSU Identification Badge

Teacher candidates are required to purchase a WSU identification badge from Cougar Card Services located in the Compton Union Building. The cost of the badge is $10. Teacher candidates will receive a lanyard from the Office of Field Services and Certification. Badges must always be worn during field experiences.

Liability Insurance

Proof of liability insurance must be on file before beginning and throughout any field experience. Liability insurance may be purchased online at <https://education.wsu.edu/liabilityinsurance/>.

Pre-Residency Clearance

All WSU students enrolled in a field experience must have a pre-residency certificate clearance. Detailed directions on how to set up your account and apply for the pre-residency certificate can be found at <https://education.wsu.edu/backgroundclearance/>.

Fingerprint Clearance

All teacher candidates enrolled in a field experience must have FBI fingerprint clearance. More information about fingerprinting both in Pullman and outside of the Pullman area can be found at <https://education.wsu.edu/coe-fingerprinting-service/>.

School Handbook

Teacher candidates must read the placement school's handbook and follow the school policies and procedures while in the building.

Communication Ladder

Not every field experience will be the same. As a guest in the classroom, the teacher candidate is expected to follow the lead of the mentor teacher. If the teacher candidate has concerns about their placement, the school climate, or the responsibilities expected of them during their field experiences, the following steps should be followed:

1. Confer with the university supervisor.
2. If there is no resolution, contact should be made with the regional field coordinator.
3. If concerns continue, the next level of resolution should be made to the Elementary Coordinator and Director of Field Services.

Field Concerns

If the mentor teacher, building administrator, or field supervisor has concerns regarding placement or performance during the field experience, some or all of the following interventions will be implemented:

1. Remediation: a clear, written plan upon which all parties agree (mentor teacher, teacher candidate, and field supervisor).
2. Probation: a written contract explaining that the teacher candidate will be evaluated on a weekly basis to ensure that they are meeting expectations; they are not allowed to continue teaching the following week unless expectations are met.
3. Extension: used in cases where progress is being made, but it is agreed that additional time is needed to demonstrate competency. This extends responsibilities for the mentor teacher and field supervisor; it usually requires additional tuition.
4. Removal: The Department of Teaching and Learning reserves the right to remove any teacher candidate from any field experience when one or more of the following occurs:
 - a. The mentor teacher, building principal, and/or district placement coordinator request that the experience be terminated.
 - b. The field supervisor indicates that after repeated feedback and observation, documented in writing, sufficient progress is not being achieved.
 - c. The teacher candidate violates the WSU Student Code of Conduct, the Professional Dispositions of Teachers (see PDEFE), the Washington State Code of Conduct Professional Conduct for Education Practitioners, Chapter 181-87 WAC, or district rules.

In the event a teacher candidate is removed from an internship placement, the following will occur:

1. Department personnel will gather information from school personnel, the field supervisor, and others as appropriate to document the reason for removal. The teacher candidate is required to work through department personnel and their field supervisor to resolve issues regarding their placement and may not directly contact school district personnel regarding the placement unless authorized by the department to do so.
2. Before a teacher candidate is given a new placement, the candidate must submit a formal request letter to their placement coordinator. This letter should reflect why they would like a new placement, what they learned from their last placement, and what they will do differently this time for a successful internship.

3. A college review committee consisting of five representatives selected from the field supervisor, program coordinator, faculty, placement coordinator, field services director, certification coordinator, or director of student services will examine the candidate's request along with a review of the candidate's progress in the program.
4. A meeting is scheduled to discuss the situation and the next steps. The attendees will include the teacher candidate and, if desired, a support person or other mutually agreeable third party (e.g., ombudsman) and at least three members of the college review committee. At the meeting, the teacher candidate may present additional information as the situation is discussed and options are explored.
5. The committee will decide on removal and next steps, communicate the decision to the teacher candidate in writing, and copy the Department Chair. Possible next steps include, but are not limited to, the following:
 - a. A new placement is recommended, and the teacher candidate begins again as soon as the placement can be arranged. The internship may need to be extended to meet time requirements. If reassigned, every effort will be made to make the placement in a different district with a different field supervisor. A formal letter stipulating conditions for the continuation of the field experience is provided to the teacher candidate who must indicate their agreement to the conditions in writing.
 - b. The teacher candidate is advised to withdraw from the field experience and must meet university criteria and the published university deadlines to withdraw from the internship or cancel enrollment.
 - c. The teacher candidate receives a failing grade for the field experience and may be removed from the teacher preparation program. In the event the teacher candidate is removed from the program, they may be able to continue in/graduate from a departmental degree program, but without recommendation to the state for teacher licensure. The degree change may necessitate additional coursework.

The decision of the committee may be appealed to the Department Chair.

Teaching & Learning Expectations

Attendance

This course meets the requirements for state-legislated certification; therefore, students should make all reasonable efforts to attend all class meetings AND field experiences. However, in the event a student is unable to attend a class, it is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor AND mentor teacher as soon as possible, explain the reason for the absence (and provide documentation, if appropriate), and make up class work missed within a reasonable amount of time if allowed.

Attendance is documented. Missing class meetings or field experiences may result in failure of the class.

Professional Dispositions

The Department of Teaching and Learning at Washington State University uses the Professional Dispositions for Academic Progress (PDAP) to evaluate the dispositions of all its teacher candidates in the classroom and the field. Your professional disposition will be assessed throughout the course. For more information on professional dispositions, visit <https://education.wsu.edu/professionaldisposition/>.

Professional Communication

The faculty members, instructors, and teaching assistants in the Elementary Education program emphasize the importance of effective written and oral communication for teachers. Students of the program are expected to demonstrate that they can meet professional communication standards on all their assignments. A student who fails to adhere to conventions of writing (e.g., makes consistent grammatical and spelling errors, frequently misuses words or phrases, fails to organize writing effectively) may be required to work with the Writing Center or complete additional coursework. Students who fail to meet expectations after being provided the opportunity for remediation and improvement may be removed from the program. Students will also be held accountable for demonstrating that they are capable of clear and professional verbal communication.

Integrative Capstone (CAPS)

Integrative capstone courses bring opportunities for integration, application, and closure to the undergraduate experience and prepare students for post-baccalaureate work and life-long learning. Occurring in the final year of a student's degree, the CAPS courses serve as a culminating experience for students to demonstrate achievement of the university's undergraduate learning goals. CAPS courses may occur within or outside the major, depending on the requirements of a student's major field of study. Many CAPS courses ask students to demonstrate a depth of knowledge within their chosen academic field of study that integrates its history, core methods, techniques, vocabulary, and unsolved problems. Other CAPS courses require students to apply concepts from their general and specialized studies to personal, academic, service learning, professional, and/or community activities. Other CAPS courses ask students to demonstrate how the methods and concepts of a chosen discipline relate to those of other disciplines through engaging in cross-disciplinary activities.

Roles and Responsibilities of Teacher Candidates

The pre-internship provides you with an important opportunity to begin your professional development. Teacher candidates enrolled in WSU's teacher preparation program are expected to behave responsibly and professionally. The following guidelines address some of the issues for which you will be held accountable:

Be Prompt and Present

You are expected to be present and on time in your assigned classroom every week. Teachers are on tight schedules to meet the demands of a school day. Teachers plan on your presence in the classroom and expect you to be a consistent part of their students' learning.

Demonstrate Professionalism

Know and adhere to the school and classroom policies and procedures. Dress like a professional. Please do not wear jeans, low-riding pants, midriff tops, sweats, or short skirts or shorts. Do not display studs, body piercings, or tattoos. Appearances that are a distraction or serve as a poor model for children are not acceptable. You could be asked to leave the pre-internship if not dressed appropriately and be required to make up the time on a different day.

Be Respectful

Show effort, enthusiasm, and respect for the teaching profession and the professionals you work with. It is not your place to confront or question the mentor teacher's judgment, teaching style, or choice of activities. A respectful attitude, an eagerness to learn, and an appreciation for this opportunity will go a long way in creating a professional relationship between you and your mentor teacher.

Show Initiative

You will be expected to observe the students and your mentor teacher, take the initiative in working with students individually or in small groups, engage in classroom activities and lessons, be available to assist the students from the classroom to other learning situations (computer lab, specialists, assemblies, library), and to collaborate with your mentor teacher to complete assignments for this course.

Be Reflective

You are expected to reflect on your experiences in this field experience and to make connections to the topics discussed in your methods courses. This is an opportunity for you to analyze and interpret the impact that this experience is having on you as a beginning teacher and the impact you are having on the other professionals and the students with whom you work.

Learning Outcomes and Assignments

Learning Outcomes

1. Learn how a teacher manages the daily operations of a classroom (attendance/transitions between classes, interruptions during classes, communication with colleagues and parents).
2. Learn basic classroom management techniques (start and end of class transitions, transitions during a lesson, redirection of off-task students, teacher deescalate/reduce the tension of misbehavior in a management situation).
3. Develop an awareness of curriculum flow, formative and summative assessment.
4. Develop an understanding of the school culture and context to which you will most likely return for your internship.

Course Assignments

1. Participate in ALL seminar discussions and activities.
2. Plan and teach two formal lesson plans to an entire class during the pre-internship experience (Appendix A and B).
3. Write a 3 – 4 page reflection and analysis of one of the lesson plans (Appendix D).
4. Write a 1 - 2 page reflection on what you did to meet dispositions #5, 6, 7, 9 from the PDEFE.
5. Meet standards on the Pre-internship PDEFE (Appendix C).

All forms and instructions for required assignments will be available for teacher candidates on the WSU Canvas 490 Pre-internship course.

The teacher candidate is responsible for collecting all materials, including the lesson observation forms and the Pre-internship PDEFE, and submitting them to the instructor at the beginning of the seminar.

Two Formal Lesson Plans

The pre-service teacher is required to plan and teach at least two formal lessons to an entire class during the Pre-internship experience. A lesson plan template is available for students to download and should be completed before the lessons are taught. The mentor teacher should approve the lesson plans at least two days before the lessons occur. The mentor teacher will use the Lesson Plan Observation Form to evaluate the lesson content and delivery and should provide feedback for the teacher candidate. See Appendix A and B.

The teacher candidate may have a chance to teach only some of the two lessons but must submit two lesson plans to their mentor and write them as if they were teaching.

Lesson Plan Reflection and Analysis

Use the reflection questions available in Appendix D of the handbook to write a 3 to 4 page paper reflecting on the effectiveness of ONE lesson. The reflection should include your overall impression of the lesson and the extent to which the students met the lesson objectives. Make a claim regarding the lesson's success and support the claim with evidence. The paper should also include your next steps for a student or group of students who still need to meet the learning objective(s). Research and include a list of resources you will use to increase learning for the following lesson. See Appendix D.

PDEFE Reflection

Using the standards 5, 6, 7, and 9 on the PDEFE as a guide, write a 1 - 2 page paper reflecting on your overall success during the pre-internship. Include evidence that supports meeting PDEFE standards around classroom environment, communication and collaboration, taking the initiative, and reflection.

PDEFE

The Pre-internship Professional Dispositions Evaluation for Field Experiences (PDEFE) is based on ten expected dispositions of competent teachers. These dispositions are conceptualized on a growth continuum, and teacher candidates in the pre-internship phase should be able to have shown observable evidence to their mentor of meeting a particular disposition. The teacher candidate must provide written (detailed example) evidence of meeting a specific disposition. It is okay not to have been able to show much evidence during this short field experience. Those areas can then be a focal point for teacher candidate student teaching goals. In support of this cumulative process, during pre-internship, we expect teacher candidates to have strong points identified and clear indicators of needs for improvement or growth. Mentor teachers are critical guides in this process, and candidates are expected to seek formal feedback. See Appendix C.

Course Evaluation

Grades are assigned on a satisfactory (S) or unsatisfactory (F) basis.

Evaluation of the pre-internship is an essential component of the experience. Evaluation will be on a satisfactory/fail basis. Satisfactory performance will permit students to continue to the next phase in the teacher training program. Teacher candidates earning a failing grade will receive remediation or be counseled out of the program.

Course Evaluation

Seminars are designed to provide students with additional information about classroom instruction and field experience. Students are required to attend and participate in topics addressed during these seminars. At most, one unexcused absence will be accepted for the term. Supplementary assignments and tasks have been provided in this handbook.

Field Experience Evaluation

Since this field experience is a university requirement, the final evaluation of the teacher candidate is the responsibility of university personnel. However, school personnel (teachers and principals) will have the greatest contact and experience with teacher candidates while in the classroom, so we will rely heavily upon their assessment.

Upon recommendation of the Department of Teaching and Learning, teacher candidates receiving a failing grade may be allowed to repeat the field experience but will not be eligible to begin Block IV until receiving a passing grade in TCH LRN 490. In some cases, a failing grade may result in decertification from the program.

Academic Integrity Policy

You are responsible for reading WSU's Academic Integrity Policy, which is based on Washington State Law. If you cheat in your work in this class, you will:

- Fail the course.
- Be reported to the Center for Community Standards.
- Have the right to appeal the decision.
- Not be able to drop the course or withdraw from the course until the appeals process is finished.

Ask the instructor if you have questions about what you can and cannot do in this course. If you want to ask for a change in the decision about academic integrity, use the form at the Center for Community Standards website. You must submit this request within 21 calendar days of the decision.

Central Focus of Learning Segment (Summary statement of the overarching learning outcomes associated with learning standards and learning objectives):

State Learning Standard(s) (Please select 1 or 2 Learning Standards from content areas):

Learning Targets (Objectives), Language Development, and Assessment:

Learning Targets: Write the objectives in student-friendly language.	How will you provide opportunities for language development for students? Include: Academic vocabulary, Language function, Discourse, & Syntax	Assessment: Describe how you will gather evidence of student thinking, understanding, or performance for this learning target. Include as appropriate: Journal entries, rubrics, reflections, exit slips, etc.

Students' Prior Knowledge or Experiences with the Content of this Lesson:

Sequence of Learning Activities (Beginning, middle, and end - include revisiting the learning target):

Include short descriptions of what the students will be doing (application), placed alongside corresponding teacher actions & minutes. Include major statements (such as definitions or directions, as needed). Include major questions the teacher will ask. Include a motivational intro & strong conclusion.

Sequence of Learning Activities (Incorporate UDL principles):

Minutes	What will the teacher be doing?	What will the student be doing? Further prompt to include both practical planning and learning demands.

Lesson Review:

- How will you differentiate instruction and outcomes to meet the needs of students? Include as appropriate: Universal Design, grouping, ELL, Special Ed., interests, culturally responsive supports, etc.
- What are your supporting theories/principles? (Why are you doing what you are doing?)
- How will you provide opportunities for student voice? (e.g., student self-assessment, metacognition, choice related to the learning target, peer assessment)
- How does this lesson connect with what students have previously learned and a progression of future learning you have planned?

Reflection (Complete after the lesson is taught) How did the lesson go? Why did you do what you did? What building blocks in student thinking, understanding, and performance did you observe? What needs remediated or extended in future lessons?

1. Briefly describe your experiences working with the students marked above (small group instruction, large instruction, observations, etc.).

2. Describe how your mentor provided regular opportunities for communication with students and families, including strategies to align communication with the communication styles or languages of others.

3. Educators who create partnerships with students and families create a shared responsibility for learning. During the pre-internship, did you observe opportunities for families from various backgrounds to provide input on activities and classroom practices?

If you have yet to observe these due to the brief nature of the pre-internship, what will you do to initiate and facilitate communication and collaboration with families to better support learning goals during the internship?

Appendix D: Lesson Plan Reflection and Analysis

Reflection

Describe your overall impressions and feelings about the lesson.

Consider

- What surprised you during this lesson or made you pause? Be specific. Why did this instance stick out to you? What was perplexing about this moment?
- What aspects of the lesson were implemented differently than you anticipated? Why?
- Overall, what went well during the lesson?

Analysis

To what extent did the students meet the objectives stated in your lesson plan? Make a claim and support it with evidence gathered from the lesson.

Consider

- To what extent did the students learn the intended outcomes? How do you know? Describe how you assessed how the lesson impacted student learning.
 - a. In what ways were your teaching methods, strategies, and activities effective? How do you know?
 - b. In what ways were your teaching materials effective? How do you know?
- What specific differentiated instruction strategies and/or assessments were used in this lesson? What worked? What would you change?
- Identify an individual student who needed help in the lesson. How do you know this student struggled to learn? How do you account for the performance? What are your next steps to help this student achieve the objectives?
- Identify a student who did meet the objectives. How do you account for this student's performance?
- If you were going to teach this lesson to the same group of students, what would you do differently (consider groupings, materials, activities, assessment, methods)?
- What are your next steps following this lesson? What would you plan to teach this class or group of students during the next lesson?
- Explain how the information above will be used in future lesson planning.

Next Steps and Resources

Consider your next steps for a student or group who still needs to meet the learning objective(s).

- Considering why this student or group did not meet the objective(s), describe your next steps below.
- Propose a question you have following the lesson.
- Research and provide a list of resources you will use to address your question before reteaching the learning objective(s).

Possible considerations from lesson content area (ELL, mathematics, science, special education, social studies, literacy)

Literacy: Describe which pillars of literacy instruction were incorporated in this lesson. How do these pillars affect students' literacy outcomes?

Mathematics: Analyze your use of mathematics vocabulary with students.

Science: Which scientific processes or skills were embedded in this lesson?

Social Studies: Which strategies for asking questions that require critical thinking were planned for this lesson?
